

The San Antonio Writing Project Cuentos Project

For the second year in a row, the San Antonio Writing Project is sponsoring a Cuentos (folk stories) Project, and we're inviting Pre-K through college teachers across the greater San Antonio area to have their students participate. The purpose of the project is to collect family stories by having students interview people in their families and then write about it. We're looking for stories about families, San Antonio and our heritage.

Information about the Cuentos Project as well as "Lesson Ideas for Teachers" can be found from the SAWP home page: <http://sanantoniowritingproject.org>. You don't have to be a Teacher Consultant with SAWP to participate. We hope to collect these stories by June 2009 and share them in the Fall of 2009. Last Fall, cuentos from the first year of our project were displayed at the Texan Institute of Cultures, and we had a reading and reception honoring students and their stories. We plan to have this public forum for showcasing these cuentos again. Please submit these projects to sawp AT utsa.edu (name@utsa.edu) or:
